Michelson Memorial Church School Notes

Church School visitors last Sunday included Dick Corwin in the Kindergarten Department, Wayne

Ingalls in the Junior Department, Donald Denton and Patty Cox in the Intermediate Department.

Birthday congratulations went to Dick Atkinson, Donna Macauley and Ruth Decker. The Sixth Grade was the honor class with 100% attendance.

The Youth Fellowship Choir sang for the Dedication Sunday Service at the regular church hour, assisted by the Junior Choir. An unusually large congregation attended the Dedication Service and saw more than thirty of the young people go forward to dedicate themselves to the Christian life.

Rev. Puffer was assisted by Miss Louella Thompson and Terry Hill, Louella Thompson and Terry Hill, president and vice president of the Fellowship.

The monthly Workers' Conference of the teachers and officers of the school was scheduled for Wednesday evening.

Do You Want To Cut Your Federal Taxes?

Overlapping Bureaus

The Executive Department of the Federal Government has grown from small beginnings into a mighty colossus composed of 1,812 separate bureaus and agencies employing 2,090,554 civilian workers with an annual payroll of more than $6,000,000,000.00.

This growth was haphazard. What happened was that when a job needed to be done, an agency was hurriedly set up by executive order, or created by Congress. We are now paying for all these mistakes.

On July 1, 1947, Congress authorized, by unanimous vote, the launching of the greatest effort yet made to plan an efficient, economical government reorganization. With the approval of President Truman, a bi-partisan, twelve-man commission, headed by former President Hoover, was established. This Commission found many discouraging examples of the confusion in our government machinery, and has made concrete suggestions to correct these ills.

As matters stand, when you attempt to deal with your government, you will find 34 agencies engaged in obtaining land, 10 in Federal construction work, 9 in credit and finance and 50 in gathering statistics. A rancher desiring to pasture his livestock on public lands must obtain separate permits, each containing different terms and conditions, from both the Department of Interior and the Department of Agriculture.

The Army Engineers and the Reclamation Bureau cost the taxpayers untold millions of dollars through duplication of effort on water resources development. As an instance of this wasteful duplication, the Hungry Horse Project in Montana was estimated to cost $6,300,000. The actual cost was $93,500,000.

In New Orleans, there are 5 Federal hospitals operated separately by different branches of the government. Their joint capacity is 1,620 beds. When surveyed, they had a total of 913 patients.

If you want this waste and inefficiency stopped, write your Congressman. Write the Citizens Committee for Reorganization of the Government.

New Pillow Invention To Make Bow

Feather merchants are spending sleepless nights these days, but millions of the rest of us will bless the new and amazing Playtex Superfoam Pillows which make their bow in Grayling this week.

Women have known the name of latex for a long time for tissue-like baby pants and for light, resilient girdles and foundations. Now this company has developed a new Superfoam pillow which apparently gets rid of every disadvantage a feather pillow ever had.

This revolutionary invention in pillows is made of lasting latex foam, that is as soft and as pliable as baby cashmere. Its honey-combed construction of millions of tiny cells creates a pillow that is the nearest thing to a gift from heaven. The minute your head rests on the pillow, the air gently moves from one cell to another so that you are always in a comfortable position, no matter how you might be accustomed to tossing and turning. No need to "punch the pillow" to get it into shape—it isn't possible to get out of shape, even if you twist it.

From its appearance you would never guess that this Playtex Superfoam Pillow differs from its feathered friends. But what a world of difference there is between them. In the Playtex Pillow, chemists and designers teamed up to produce a pillow combining cool comfort, even on the hottest night with complete freedom from dust. For here at least is a pillow that is 100% allergy-free. What a blessing to people who wheeze and weep every time they come near a feather pillow. Doctors tell us it is the protein dust of feathers that is so harmful.

Now, even feather dust will become a relic of the past. The Playtex Pillow is also moth-proof, mildew-proof and vermin-proof.

All too many people take sleep for granted, but sleep is nothing if it is not restful, comfortable and cool. The manufacturers of the Playtex Superfoam Pillow advise us that in the thousands of supervised tests that have been conducted on this new pillow invention, the verdict seems to be unanimous! It's the greatest aid to sound, refreshing sleep ever experienced.

Though there isn't too much danger of having sleepless nights right now because of heat, it's nice to know that when summer comes again, you'll have no more perspiration-soaked feathers to contend with. Playtex stays fresh and cool throughout the night because the millions of tiny air bubbles breathe in the air and won't permit the heat to stay.

Covered in fine sanforized cotton it fits all standard size pillow-cases. Significantly, with a Playtex Pillow you can change the pillowcase in a wink. No more struggling with bunched or lumpy feather pillows.

If you prefer you may have the Playtex Pillow in a luxurious satin cover, with corded edges to match; or even in a beautiful dove-pattern cotton print. Colors are Snow-White, Cream, Tea Rose, Pastel Green and Heavenly Blue.

Believe it or not, the Playtex Superfoam Pillow... for the first time in the history of pillows... comes hygienically and magnificently packaged for gift giving. We think that they are destined to tremendous success, especially since they are within the reach of most everyone.

These Playtex Superfoam Pillows are now on display at Grayling Mercantile Company.

Enjoy a lot more travel—for a lot less money, going by Greyhound. Dependable service. Convenient schedules. Warm, modern coaches.

Is The Press Bad?

Of late, there has been a noticeable change in Mr. Truman's relations with the press. In the words of Marquis Childs, "He has come to believe that the press is obtrusive, unfair, irresponsible and even, at times, insulting."

Evidence of this has made its appearance a number of Pres. Truman's periodic press conferences. The importance of these conferences is very great—they are attended by representatives of the wire services, the radio networks, the columnists and correspondents of the great dailies which maintain bureaus in the capital. They are, as a result, the source of practically all information concerning the government which reaches the public, aside from occasional speeches and statements by high-level officials and routine departmental handouts.

Matters came to something of a head recently when Mr. Truman gave an exclusive interview to Arthur Krock, chief of the Washington bureau of the New York Times. This violated an unwritten but long-established custom which holds that the President will not give a scoop to anyone, but will make what he has to say available to all accredited correspondents. When queried about this at the next press conference, Mr. Truman replied that he would break the custom whenever he felt like it, that he was his own free agent, and that he would say whatever he pleased to anybody he pleased and would not be censored. A correspondent then said that the press corps thought their business important. The President replied to the effect that sometimes he wasn't so sure of that. The situation was definitely acrimonious and the ill-feeling on both sides was evident.

This might seem like an unimportant little business, which will soon blow over, were it not for one further matter. Many a seasoned newspaperman, including some who are generally in sympathy with present Administration policies, feel that the President and other top men—including Mr. Acheson, the Secretary of State—ministration policies, feel that the President and other top men—including Mr. Acheson, the Secretary of State—are not giving the nation as much information as to what is going on as it should. Of this, Mr. Childs writes, "There is scarcely even the rudimentary information on which others might base a policy of leadership. The Administration seems to regard information as something to be withheld as punishment or given as a favor. There is an atmosphere of even more hostile divorce between press and government in this time of tragic drift."

March 17, 1927

The following won the village election held Monday evening: Hans Peterson, president; Roy Milnes, clerk; Carl Jensen, treasurer; James W. Sorenson, assessor; Thomas Cassidy, George W. McCullough and Grant Shaw, trustees.

John M. Smith, age 86, a well known pioneer resident of South Branch Township passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. D. Eugene Mathewson of Roscommon, Wednesday morning.

High point winners in the district basketball tournament for Grayling were Smith, left forward, and Brady, right forward.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brown were in Bay City over Sunday visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Woodruff.

Fred Lamm, who is employed in Monroe, spent the week end here visiting friends. Mr. Lamm was formerly employed as mechanic at Burke's Garage.

R. H. Gillert returned Tuesday from a business trip to Bay City accompanied by Charles F. Tomlinson, whom he hired as filer for the Grayling Dowel and Tie Plug Company.

Herman Dorah and wife have purchased the property where their son, Walter and family reside, from Mrs. Louise Bruder of Cheboygan.

First of the week gave us the balmyest spring day one can imagine in March. The snow was pretty well gone last week and rains Saturday and Sunday night completed the job. But water from the melting snow and the rains played havoc with some of the roads. The new stretch on M-14 north of Roscommon was pretty well washed out and cars had to travel the old detour and that was in bad condition. Highways have suffered all over Michigan.

NOW ITS YOUR TURN TO BLOSSOM OUT

Tune in HENRY J. TAYLOR, ABC Network, every Monday evening.

You've seen it happen with the family down the street, the friends across town, the folks you went to school with.

They started out, as most folks do, with a car of modest size—and still more modest price.

Maybe they moved themselves up a bit, step by step, to the top-bracket models in that particular price range.

Then they discovered something.

It doesn't cost much more—sometimes no more—to really blossom out in a Buick.

It's not such a long stretch to take command of a great-hearted valve-in-head straight-eight—to move into the room and restfulness and steady going of a Buick—to cloak yourself in styling that's today's height of highway fashions.

You can know the good, satisfying feel of a Buick wheel in your hand—you can have the gentleness of soft coil springs on all four wheels.

You can revel in the handiness of cars that are big in room and big in repute, yet traffic-sized and easy to park—and put away.

Maybe—who knows till you inquire?—you can manage the magic silkiness of Dynaflo Drive* in all its 1950 perfection—of a certainty you'll find the model that's twin to your heart's desire among the many choices Buick gives you for 1950.

So why not make this your year to blossom out in a Buick, as so many have before you? Why not find out the dollars-and-cents story of Buick—it even includes some very happy figures on gas economy—from your own Buick dealer?

This simple but forceful picture, symbolic of Red Cross service, is the work of Stevan Dohanos, noted magazine artist.

and the community where they had elected to make their homes.

Bonnie himself was a blond giant with a loud musical laugh, and a way of putting his shoulder to wheels and making them move. His palace was a log one-room hut where he housed his plump wife, Mary, and their half dozen healthy offspring, and set on a knoll overlooking the set of lumber camps halfway down the slope to the river, where the season's logs were piled, drying in the sun all summer long because of the litigation with the Struthers Lumber Company, over the scale. It was now the first of September, and the logs of more than a dozen of his neighbors were piled with Bonnie's because only in the main river was there enough water to make a fall drive.

The deal with Breen & Halliday was unsatisfactory because they had no money down and the Settlers had agreed to make the drive themselves and take their pay as the logs were sawed, but Len Breen, the only one left of Breen & Halliday now, was honest. He was poor, but they trusted him because he had never let anybody down. Then, too, there was winter just round the corner and they had to get something out of their last years work, or it would be a tough one.

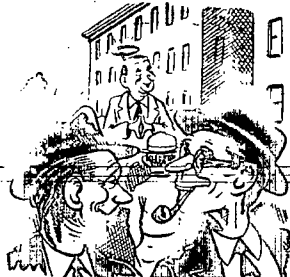

On the river bank near the wanigan sat Clay Woods, seasoned woods and riverman, and his friend, Johnny Ka-sa-bo-ta-sa, known throughout the north country as "Injun Johnny," top riverman for Breen & Halliday who were to spearhead the drive, watching the sun set red and sullen into a bank of tumbling black clouds and listening to the wind moaning over the pine slash. The wanigan was to push off at midnight with sixteen men with their peavies and pikepoles, the rest of the crew were to start rolling in the logs at four in the morning. You know what my mother would say when the wind sounds like that?" the half-Indian said. "She would say the Great Spirit was talking to us, warning us there was going to be trouble." Clay grinned. He knew about his friend's superstitions. Next week the trouble.

My Neighbors

By BILL PAULSON

"I wouldn't trust a Communist any farther than I could kick a piano. They'd stuff warm butter in a dead cat's ear... if they thought it would help the 'cause!'"

Inducing new industries to locate in Michigan small towns is not a push-button affair.

Decentralization of industry whereby workers may work part-time in a small factory and then part-time on a small plot of ground is more of an illusion than a reality.

These points were among a number of interesting facts brought out at a panel program sponsored by the Michigan Press Association as a service for member newspapers which serve small rural communities.

The program was stimulated by interest shown in the series of the "Michigan Mirror" news-letter last August and September on the subject of community development and new industries for Michigan small towns.

To bring the matter to a sharp focus for consideration of newspaper editors, the state press association invited three experts to participate on a panel program.

C. Dwight Wood, Michigan Department of Economic Development, emphasized the need for self-help in the community whereby the town took inventory of its resources and potentials. Mr. Wood declared that "one of the best ways in which a community can get in touch with industrial prospects" was for the community to make a survey of the services which were available in the community for various industries. If suitable sites are available and other factors are favorable, the community can then list these available resources with the Michigan Department of Economic Development. The state department compiles a monthly bulletin which is distributed to officials of industries which have indicated a desire to migrate to smaller towns or to open branches elsewhere.

Professor H. O. Whittemore, head of Landscape Architecture, University of Michigan, emphasized the need for available land, preferably adjacent to railroad facilities, which could be readily utilized for industrial use and also for future expansion.

Because of the need for parking of worker automobiles as well as truck shipping, storage, and the trend to a one-story factory building the average number of square feet of space per industrial worker has jumped from about 150 feet in building floor space to around 1,500 of 1,600 square feet per worker.

Professor Whittemore believes firmly that the ideal factory area should be within the city limits and hence that availability of such land for industry becomes an essential function of the community in planning for future industrial development.

He pointed out that a recent decision of the Supreme Court held it was unconstitutional for a municipality to condemn land which was to be turned over to a private industrial concern for private use.

In that connection Mr. Wood, Michigan Department of Economic Development, pointed out that a number of Michigan rural communities have formed corporations to purchase industrial land which is re-sold to industry at a fair price.

"We have put out a guide for helping communities to form such corporations, and many Michigan communities are in the process of doing that now," said Mr. Wood.

Dean Ernest L. Anthony, School of Agriculture, Michigan State College, referred to a college survey of approximately 25,000 industrial workers who lived on small farm plots and who presumably worked in city industries.

In the past the idea of a decentralization of industry whereby workers could perform part-time farming on home plots while working part-time in city industries has had a peculiar vogue. The MSC survey, however, revealed that a majority of these workers were making "very poor use of the fact that they lived in the country."

"Today we must realize that agriculture is a business," said Dean Anthony. "It is a scientific and mechanical business. The man who pays much attention to farming has to farm as if he really meant to farm. It is not something, just a little on the side, that he can putter around with."

It is the observation of Dean Anthony that the present industrial pattern of labor used on swing-shifts does not encourage part-time farmers in rural communities. Dean Anthony favors the encouragement of agricultural processing plants, such as co-operative creameries, milk plants, and other food concerns, which might develop in smaller communities.

"Too many of our communities have forgotten their farmers and the farm possibilities that are right around that community in which they live," observed Dean Anthony. "It would like to see town and country get a lot closer together than they are now."

The writer of this column has traveled considerably about Michigan. An inevitable observation is the growth of some small communities, while neighboring towns languish and steadily decline. Community development is not a matter of overnight success. It calls for an awakened civic spirit and a consistent co-operation of citizens in movements to better the community, making the town a better place in which to live and work.

It is significant to note that Michigan already has services available in the Michigan Department of Economic Development, the University of Michigan and Michigan State College whereby communities can obtain assistance in helping themselves to progressive development. The towns which are making an effort to improve themselves are thus the communities which are more apt to attract new industries.

Income Tax Agents Find Public Honest; Checking Methods Revealed

Do the spectres of tax investigators haunt you as you make out your income-tax form? They shouldn't, if you are as honest as the average American, whose tax returns are checked for mistakes in arithmetic, but who is rarely bothered beyond that, according to Arthur Gordon, Writing in Redbook Magazine for March, he tells you the kinds of entry agents usually "verify" and what the Bureau of Internal Revenue is doing to learn more about the habits and attitudes of the public.

"When your tax return reaches the local collector's office, what happens? Well, the local collector (there are sixty-four collection districts in the U. S.) checks all the forms he receives for errors in arithmetic or computation. Then he makes a rough division between those who earn or receive more than $7,000, and those whose income is less.

"The tax returns of people earning more than $7,000 are checked by a special group of revenue agents. The local collector and his assistants process the rest. The form itself remains in the local collector's office and if there are no complications — is eventually destroyed.

"Once clerical accuracy is established, the form is checked for items that seem to call for 'verification' — a term which the income-tax authorities prefer to 'investigation.' Treasury agents do this checking very rapidly — get through fifty-five million returns. "If a return shows some implausibility — a suspiciously large deduction for charitable contributions, let's say, or a relatively small income; or a large loss claimed on the sale of a house during a nation-wide real-estate boom — items such as these will make the agent stop, look and possibly query.

"Many of the sins thus uncovered are not considered very deadly. Out of some four million returns 'verified' last year, only four or five thousand have turned out to be cases of deliberate fraud. Some four hundred of these were prosecuted. The rest of the dishonest ones were allowed to settle their accounts with Uncle Sam by paying the tax due, plus six per cent compound interest, plus stiff cash penalties, which may run as high as fifty per cent of the amount due.

"One way tax evaders or falsifiers may be caught is through evidence supplied by an informer. Nobody particularly admires a stool-pigeon, but under an old law the Treasury is authorized to pay rewards to these informers, amounting up to ten per cent of the amount recovered. These tipsters are usually motivated more by personal grudges than greed.

"The Bureau of Internal Revenue, which knows a good deal already, hopes shortly to know even more about the tax habits of the average American. In 1948, a scientific sampling was made. One hundred and fifty thousand tax returns were selected to give a true cross-section. Size of income, geographical location, occupation — all were considered in choosing the guinea-pigs. Then the new investigators went out and checked these people in friendly personal interviews. Could the forms be simplified even more? If so, how? If cheating was going on, what sort of people were most likely to cheat? In which areas? What form would such cheating take? That sort of thing.

"When that survey's results are tabulated, the Bureau's added knowledge about the attitude and actions of taxpayers may benefit everybody.

"All things considered, our voluntary system of paying taxes works remarkably well. Ten years ago, only 4,000,000 people were filing returns. Today, there are 55,000,000, and the work in handling that many returns is staggering to contemplate. But the Bureau itself is the first to insist that the system is based squarely on the essential honesty of the American people."

Tuberculosis Skin Testing

One of the best methods of early recognition of tuberculosis in young individuals is by serial skin testing carried out as a routine part of any physical examination. Repeated skin testing does no harm, and seemingly unnecessary repetitions of the procedure are to be commended. The frequency with which they should be done is, of course, governed by considerations as to the adequacy of tuberculosis control in a particular community as well as by individualized indications familiar to all physicians. Great steps forward in the efforts to eradicate this scourge of mankind, has, however, been made by the physicians routine patch testing of all patients coming to him for examination for any reason; this would assure far more adequate screening of the entire population than can be accomplished solely through other public health agencies.

The question as to which skin test to use doesn't appear to be of great practical importance. Most authorities agree that the use of the patch test for initial screening is satisfactory. In some cases the physician may wish to follow this with other types of tuberculin tests. In school groups and particularly young children it has the decided advantage of being painless.

In all cases it seems better to use the patch tests as a screening method, following the positives with chest X-ray examinations. This is economically good because it cuts down the number of X-rays necessary in the high school group. During the month of March the Health Department staff will do considerable tuberculin testing in the High School groups of the area. Consent cards signed by the parent are necessary before this can be done.

Lack of time prevents the Health Department staff will do school children each year. It is a wise investment to take your child to your family physician for tuberculin testing if they are not in the groups to be tested by the health department.

Standard Oil Report Show Lower Profit

Slightly lower product sales volume, lower prices and lower earnings in 1949 were reported Thursday for Standard Oil Company (Indiana) and subsidiaries.

Total sales were $1,125,411,841, down 0.7 per cent from 1948. Product sales were up 3 per cent in volume but prices were about 4 per cent lower on the average. Net earnings of $102,888,228 for 1949 were equal to $8.72 per share. These compare with $140,072,286 and $8.16 in 1948 and $94,880,715 and $8.21 in 1947.

Dividends paid in 1949, including the market value of the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) stock distributed, were $2.69 per share. This was equal to 40 per cent of earnings.

In a news-conference preview of the company's 1949 annual report, Chairman Robert E. Wilson and President A. W. Peake explained that the decline in earnings was due to lower prices on most products and to the sharp reduction in the quantity of crude-oil production.

Former Grayling Highway Employee Honored

On the occasion of the 35th annual banquet of the Michigan Highway Conference, at the Pansil Hotel, Grand Rapids, on Wednesday, March 15, State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler presented Certificates of Service to 34 employees of the State Highway Department whose tenure of service in the Department extends from 20 to 30 years.

Since 1944, when this program, which is included among those known as "Flowers to the Living," Commissioner Ziegler said he had previously presented 127 of these certificates. The presentation on March 15 brought the total to 161. In the group which received certificates on March 15, were 22 employees whose service extends over a period of 20 years; eight of 25 years; and four of 30 years.

Among them was Harry Bernard Worden, who was born in Hillsdale County; began employment with State Highway Department in 1926 as foreman, stationed in Grayling from 1929 to 1948; served as heavy highway equipment operator at Grayling and at Brighton; now highway maintenance foreman at Mio.

CARD PARTY Wednesday, March 15 AT MASONIC HALL PRIZES AND LUNCH

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Handy and Easy
Are Both Wrong

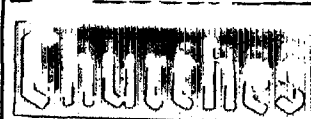

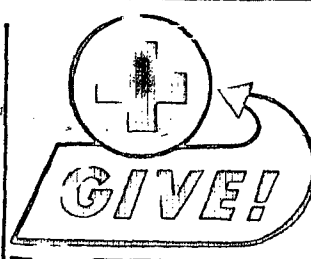

Handy Peterson and Easy Roberts got in quite an argument the other day over at Fred's Garage talking about the best spot to fish up at Green Lake.

"Opposite the old sawmill is the best spot," says Handy. But Easy "pooh-pooh's" him. "I've seen the biggest fish caught off Cedar Point," says Easy. "I've been catching them there for years."

Then Fred goes into his office and brings out the biggest mounted rainbow trout you ever saw. "But that was caught at the sawmill," comments Handy. "Cedar Point," says Easy. "Well," says Fred, "you're both wrong. I caught this baby right out in the middle!" From where I sit, there are always two (or more) sides to every story. Let's live and let live in the true American tradition of toleration. Your opinion is worth a lot, but so is the other fellow's — whether it's on politics, the best fishing spots, or whether he likes a temperate glass of beer and you like buttermilk.

Annual Tax Sale

STATE OF MICHIGAN,
In the Circuit Court for the County of Crawford
In Chancery. No. 292

In the Matter of the Petition of Muri K. Aten, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

On reading and filing the petition of the Auditor General of the State of Michigan praying for a decree in favor of the State of Michigan, against each parcel of land therein described, for the amounts therein specified, claimed to be due for taxes, interest and charges on each such parcel of land, and that such lands be sold for the amounts so claimed by the State of Michigan.

It is ordered that said petition will be brought on for hearing and decree at the April term of this Court, to be held at Grayling in the County of Crawford, State of Michigan, on the 11th day of April, A. D. 1950, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that all persons interested in such lands or any part thereof, desiring to contest the lien claimed thereon by the State of Michigan, for such taxes, interest and charges, or any part thereof, shall appear in said Court, and file with the clerk thereof their objections thereto on or before the first day of the term of this Court above mentioned, and that in default thereof the same will be taken as confessed and a decree will be taken and entered as prayed for in said petition. And it is further ordered that in pursuance of said decree the lands described in said petition for which a decree of sale shall be made, will be sold for the several taxes, interest and charges thereon as determined by such decree, on the first Tuesday in May thereafter, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. on said day, or on the day or days subsequent thereto as may be necessary to complete the sale of said lands and of each and every parcel thereof, at the office of the county treasurer, or at such convenient place as shall be selected by him at the county seat of the County of Crawford, State of Michigan; and that the sale then and there made will be a public sale, and each parcel described in the decree shall be separately exposed for sale for the total taxes, interest and charges, and the sale shall be made to the person paying the full amount charged against such parcel, and accepting a conveyance of the smallest undivided fee simple interest therein, or, if no person will pay the taxes and charges and take a conveyance of less than the entire thereof, then the whole parcel shall be offered and sold. If any parcel of land cannot be sold for taxes, interest and charges, such parcel shall be passed over for the time being, and shall, on the succeeding day, or before the close of the sale, be re-offered, and if, on such second offer, or during such sale, the same cannot be sold for the amount aforesaid, the County Treasurer shall bid off the same in the name of the State.

Witness the Hon. John C. Shaffer, Circuit Judge, and the seal of said Circuit Court of Crawford County this 7th day of February, A. D. 1950.

John C. Shaffer,
Circuit Judge.

Countersigned,
Leo Lovely, Clerk.

STATE OF MICHIGAN,
In the Circuit Court for the County of Crawford
In Chancery.

In the Matter of the Petition of Muri K. Aten, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Crawford, in Chancery:

Muri K. Aten, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, respectfully shows unto the Court:

That he is the Auditor General of the State of Michigan and makes and files this petition under, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended, and Act No. 126 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended:

2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county upon which taxes, which were assessed for the years mentioned therein, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, the description of all lands in said county heretofore bid off in the name of the State and thus held and upon which taxes which were assessed subsequent to the tax for which such lands were sold to the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the description of all lands in said county which are delinquent for any installment of taxes under the provisions of the act last above mentioned;

3. That extended separately in said schedule against each description of said lands therein contained are (a) the total amount of delinquent taxes upon said description for the non-payment of which the same may lawfully be sold at the next annual tax sale, (b) interest computed thereon as provided by law to the first day of May, next ensuing, (c) a collection fee of four per cent and (d) $1.00 for expenses, all in accordance with the provisions of the act first above mentioned;

4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges are valid, delinquent and unpaid, and have remained delinquent and unpaid for sufficient time to authorize and require, as provided by the foregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land against which they were assessed and are extended in said schedule at the next annual tax sale for the non-payment thereof, and that the said taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses so extended in said schedule against each parcel of land therein described constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein and against which extended in favor of the people of the State of Michigan, the payment of which lien this court may enforce as a preferred or first claim upon such lands by the sale thereof.

Wherefore your petitioner prays:

a. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and decree that the aforesaid taxes, interest, collection fee and charges are valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended;

b. That within the time provided by law this court make a final decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land therein contained;

c. That said decree provide that in default of the payment so ordered of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands in said schedule, the said several parcels of land, or such interest therein as may be necessary to satisfy the amount decreed against the same, shall severally be sold as the law provides;

d. That your petitioner may have such other and further relief in the premises as to this court may seem just and equitable.

And your petitioner will ever pray, etc.

Dated: February 2, 1950.
MURI K. ATEN,
Auditor General of the State of Michigan,
for and in behalf of said State.
